

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

Boston would receive $91.3 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act, a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- ▶ Smaller class sizes
- ▶ More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- ▶ More counseling and guidance services
- ▶ Better technology, materials and supplies
- ▶ More art, music and electives
- ▶ More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- ▶ More classroom aides
- ▶ More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid. The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

Brockton would receive $69.9 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act, a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- Smaller class sizes
- More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- More counseling and guidance services
- Better technology, materials and supplies
- More art, music and electives
- More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- More classroom aides
- More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid. The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

Chelsea would receive $33.6 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act, a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- ▶ Smaller class sizes
- ▶ More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- ▶ More counseling and guidance services
- ▶ Better technology, materials and supplies
- ▶ More art, music and electives
- ▶ More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- ▶ More classroom aides
- ▶ More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid. The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

Chicopee would receive $22.8 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act, a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- ▶ Smaller class sizes
- ▶ More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- ▶ More counseling and guidance services
- ▶ Better technology, materials and supplies
- ▶ More art, music and electives
- ▶ More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- ▶ More classroom aides
- ▶ More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid. The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

Everett would receive $30.1 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act, a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- ▶ Smaller class sizes
- ▶ More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- ▶ More counseling and guidance services
- ▶ Better technology, materials and supplies
- ▶ More art, music and electives
- ▶ More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- ▶ More classroom aides
- ▶ More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid. The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

Fall River would receive $53.3 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act, a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- ▶ Smaller class sizes
- ▶ More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- ▶ More counseling and guidance services
- ▶ Better technology, materials and supplies
- ▶ More art, music and electives
- ▶ More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- ▶ More classroom aides
- ▶ More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid. The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

Framingham would receive $18 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act, a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- Smaller class sizes
- More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- More counseling and guidance services
- Better technology, materials and supplies
- More art, music and electives
- More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- More classroom aides
- More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid. The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

Holyoke would receive $29.9 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act, a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- ▶ Smaller class sizes
- ▶ More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- ▶ More counseling and guidance services
- ▶ Better technology, materials and supplies
- ▶ More art, music and electives
- ▶ More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- ▶ More classroom aides
- ▶ More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid. The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

Lawrence would receive $74 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act, a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- ▶ Smaller class sizes
- ▶ More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- ▶ More counseling and guidance services
- ▶ Better technology, materials and supplies
- ▶ More art, music and electives
- ▶ More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- ▶ More classroom aides
- ▶ More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid. The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

Lowell would receive $65.1 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act, a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- ▶ Smaller class sizes
- ▶ More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- ▶ More counseling and guidance services
- ▶ Better technology, materials and supplies
- ▶ More art, music and electives
- ▶ More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- ▶ More classroom aides
- ▶ More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid. The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

Lynn would receive $79 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act, a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- Smaller class sizes
- More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- More counseling and guidance services
- Better technology, materials and supplies
- More art, music and electives
- More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- More classroom aides
- More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid. The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

Malden would receive $20.5 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act, a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- ▶ Smaller class sizes
- ▶ More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- ▶ More counseling and guidance services
- ▶ Better technology, materials and supplies
- ▶ More art, music and electives
- ▶ More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- ▶ More classroom aides
- ▶ More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid. The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

New Bedford would receive $67.9 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act, a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- ▶ Smaller class sizes
- ▶ More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- ▶ More counseling and guidance services
- ▶ Better technology, materials and supplies
- ▶ More art, music and electives
- ▶ More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- ▶ More classroom aides
- ▶ More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid.

The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

Pittsfield would receive $19.8 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act, a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- ▶ Smaller class sizes
- ▶ More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- ▶ More counseling and guidance services
- ▶ Better technology, materials and supplies
- ▶ More art, music and electives
- ▶ More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- ▶ More classroom aides
- ▶ More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid. The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

Revere would receive $32.5 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act, a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- Smaller class sizes
- More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- More counseling and guidance services
- Better technology, materials and supplies
- More art, music and electives
- More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- More classroom aides
- More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid. The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

Salem would receive $14.2 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act, a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- ▶ Smaller class sizes
- ▶ More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- ▶ More counseling and guidance services
- ▶ Better technology, materials and supplies
- ▶ More art, music and electives
- ▶ More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- ▶ More classroom aides
- ▶ More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid. The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

Springfield would receive $150 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act,

a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- ▶ Smaller class sizes
- ▶ More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- ▶ More counseling and guidance services
- ▶ Better technology, materials and supplies
- ▶ More art, music and electives
- ▶ More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- ▶ More classroom aides
- ▶ More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid.

The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!

FUND OUR FUTURE

INVEST IN THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OUR COMMUNITIES DESERVE

It's Time to Keep Our Promise to Our Students!

Worcester would receive $108.2 million in additional state education aid under the Promise Act.*

* Based on an analysis by the Massachusetts Budget and Policy Center of the Promise Act in the final year of a seven-year phase-in.

Tell your legislators you want them to pass the Promise Act,

a once-in-a-generation chance to increase equity and make dramatic improvements for our students. Three-quarters of the new funding would go to high-poverty districts.

Schools could offer more services that parents, educators and local leaders know are needed to help students thrive, such as:

- ▶ Smaller class sizes
- ▶ More enrichment and advanced-work classes
- ▶ More counseling and guidance services
- ▶ Better technology, materials and supplies
- ▶ More art, music and electives
- ▶ More early education, after-school and summer school programs
- ▶ More classroom aides
- ▶ More support for English learners and students with disabilities

Statewide, the Promise Act would provide $1.4 billion in new state aid.

The bill has been co-sponsored by 119 state representatives and senators, but it is still stuck in committee. It's time to act!

Go to FUNDOURFUTUREMA.ORG to contact your legislators. Ask them to pass the Promise Act now! Our students can't wait!